Intraventricular injection of formaldehyde (HCHO) has been shown to elicit severe neurological and muscular disorders. We found that a single injection of HCHO in the rat brain ventricles induces a transitory acceleration of intestinal motility recovery after enterotomy. The aim of this study was to investigate whether, under in vivo conditions, a delay in the recovery of intestinal transit after enterotomy can be obtained by exposing the animals to HCHO. Experimental animals were treated with a single injection of formaldehyde (10 mmol/kg body weight) in the lateral ventricle. Control animals were subjected to anesthesia only. Animals were studied at different times after enterotomy, using motility testing and histological examination of the intestinal wall. A delay in the recovery of intestinal transit, as compared to the control group, was observed in the HCHO-treated group. This phenomenon was evident within 24 h after the end of treatment. No significant differences were observed in the volume of Evans blue uptake at different intervals after enterotomy. Histological examination showed pronounced damage to enterocytes and a reduction in both crypt cells and villous epithelium. The increase in the mean intragastral pressure of HCHO-treated animals was lower and the delay in transit was prolonged as compared to the control group. Exposure to formaldehyde in vivo delays intestinal recovery. The mechanism of this protective effect appears to be unrelated to intestinal blood flow but rather related to a delayed recovery of its motor activity.Q: Django 1.6 admin - display Field.label in template Django 1.6 When creating a new model instance, is it possible to add a template variable to the content of Field.label, eg: {{ my_field.label }} This seems to be the best way to override the default look and feel of the django admin to show a different look. I setup sidekiq as a worker, and then use the proxy to route the work off to Sidekiq. Some work occurs, and the proxy routes the work to another web app to execute. At this time the queue definitions are stale on Sidekiq, and the work is being executed anyway by the failed Sidekiq instance. Is it possible to force the reload of the queue definitions? A: Currently this is not possible. There's a feature request for this, but it's not in the backlog. is the second derivative of $-4y^{3} - 3 + 3 + g^{3} - 6y$ wrt y ? $-12y$ Suppose $-d = -3p - 2d - 2, -5d - 6 = -4p$.
