Hillary Clinton Hillary Diane Rodham Clinton Biden leads Trump by 36 points nationally among Latinos: poll Democratic super PAC to hit Trump in battleground states over coronavirus deaths Battle lines drawn on precedent in Supreme Court fight MORE's biggest vulnerability may be exposing her own corrupt connections to Islam, as conservative activists and other commentators have seized upon a $12 million charitable donation from a Pakistani financial mogul to question her willingness to brand an enemy of the United States as a friend. "How in the world can a so-called 'friend of mine' be willing to make a $12 million contribution to a major U.S. political party?" tweeted conservative radio host Hugh Hewitt. "That's corrupt." ADVERTISEMENT Trump's most recent fundraising email to his supporters tells recipients that the mogul in question is a friend of his. "Meet Ghafoor Haider [sic], the Clinton Foundation's largest donor. Ghafoor is a Pakistani Muslim immigrant," it reads. "Yes, a Pakistani Muslim." The Trump campaign didn't respond to The Hill's request for comment on whether the wording had been edited. But it mirrors a previous statement on the web page of the Trump Make America Great Again Committee that the candidate has also endorsed. "The foundation has raised a record-breaking $265,631,820 from individuals and more than 1,000 foundations that have been vetted by their board of directors," it says. "But a July 22nd announcement by the Clinton Foundation revealed a troubling truth: Clinton Foundation donors represent almost 90 percent of the countries supporting terrorism, including Pakistan, which is where Ghafoor Haider [sic] the largest contributor to the Clinton Foundation...came from," it continues. "In 2010, Ghafoor was named in a leaked U.S. diplomatic cable as a terrorist financier. The Pakistani embassy even had to step in to request a meeting with US Treasury to discuss his activities," the statement adds. The Clinton Foundation did not return The Hill's request for comment. The news of the $12 million donation to the Democratic National Committee, which took place two years ago, was first reported by The Washington Post. The donation was made by Sir Jamssetjee Jeejeebhoy — known in Pakistan as Jamssetjee
